To Whom It May Concern,

As avid gardeners, we here at the American Horticultural Society know a thing or two about beautiful aesthetics, and the work recently completed by Pro-Pave, Inc. for our organization certainly fits the bill.

AHS recently hired Pro-Pave, Inc. to refinish the driveway at our River Farm headquarters in Alexandria, Virginia, which serves as a national showcase for gardening and horticultural practices. Harold and the crew from Pro-Pave did a truly outstanding job, keeping us informed and engaged throughout the process, and we anxiously anticipate Phase 2 of the project.

We extend our sincere thanks to Pro-Pave, once again, for helping to make this project a reality, and heartily recommend their company to anyone in need of proficient paving services.

Best,
